Some Things to Disbelieve.

When a man advertises for a partner, and wants a young man to put in a small investment of one hundred dollars and promises to him a realization of fifty or one hundred per cent. profit, don't believe it.

When a man offers to give gold watches or jewelry worth fifty to one hundred dollars for one dollar, don't believe it. When a man offers to give away knowledge of the utmost value for the cure of consumption, and any and all diseases, by merely sending a three-cent stamp to prepay postage, don't believe it. When a man proposes to do his utmost to make every one else rich, and looks to other people's interest more than his own, don't believe it. When a man offers to give you something of great value for something of less value—in other words, to give you something for nothing, don't believe it,

Many persons advertise on purpose to filch young men of money gained by hard labor, and before entering into any speculation which may be offered you, take advantage of the many means at your command and ascertain the facts with reference to the proposed business before you invest, and thus save your money and assist in effectually breaking up all swindling establishments.

DISAPPEARANCE OF CALICO.—Although men like calico, women will not wear it. It has disappeared from the public thoroughfare. Silk, and all its half-sister fabrics, glide along—some dazzling, some queer, some splendid, some fantastic; but none have the sweet, clean, facinating, elegant appearance of the calico which used to skip by, with pretty skippers in it. There are those who mourn over little things—the drooping violet, the stricken bird, the fading rose, the dying kitten, the rain spoiled bonnet; but we mourn for exalted, animated, small-figured calico! Silks, made to trail through the dust, have lost favor in our eyes; fancy dry goods are as tattered awnings, and every costly thing of feminine apparel no longer surpasses the Lindsey homespun gowns of old. Alas! calico has had its days of glory. Where is the man who will not promptly say that the handsomest object he ever beheld was a being clad in a handsome piece of calico? He can't be found. Masculine eyes are eyes for femenine grace to please. Jewels and toys, and the richdess of silks captivate no man of sense or taste, and add not a charm to nature; but calico heightens, and brightens, and softens, and makes a fellow feel good when he sees it—and, beside, it costs a wonderful sight less! Perhaps that is one reason why men prefer it!

While I was lecturing at Washington I saw a lady with an intelligent, pretty face, and bright, eloquent eyes, that were rarely lifted towards the speaker, and then only for a flash of time. They were bent upon her husband's hands almost constantly. Brilliant and accomplished, a few years ago, she had gone down into the world of voiceless silence, and now all the music and all the speech that comes into her life comes through the tender devotion of her husband, and as I talked, I watched him telling off the lecture on his nimble fingers, while her eager eyes glanced from them to his sympathetic face. It was a pretty picture of devotion. They were so young to have this cloud shadow the morning skies of their lives, but as I glanced from the voiceless wife to her husband, I thought how beautifully the sunlight of his devotion was breaking through these clouds, and tinting even their afflictions with a tender radience. This discipline of attending upon suffering is a good thing for a man. It rounds out his life; it develops his manlier, nobler qualities; it makes his heart brave and tender and strong as a woman's.—Burdette.

In the time of Elizabeth, when a guest accepted an invitation to dine, he brought his knife with him. Forks were not used in England for fifty years after her death, the food being held by the left thumb and forefinger, while it was cut; hence an enormous supply of napkins for wiping the fingers was provided at genteel tables. Neither tea, coffee nor chocolate was known in England till long after Elizabeth's time, nor did the potato come into use, or many other of our common vegetables. Nearly all our common medicines were unknown, the rich being doctored with powdered pearls and gems, salts, gold, hearts of toads and snakes or disolved human skulls, especially those of murderers. Indeed, it wasn't then known that the blood circulated through the body, nor was anything known of the process of digestion. The world does move a little, that's a fact.

Excavations in the vicinity of Bonn, Germany, have brought to light the site of an old town, supposed to be of Roman origin. The remains of a large Roman villa were discovered near by, situated a little below the site of an extinct volcano—a circumstance tending to show that at the time of the Roman occupation volcanoes of the Rhine had ceased to be dangerous.

A man in Florida, who swallowed a orange seed last Fall, has since had breath so faagrant of orange blossoms the Spring, that—so he says—the ladies are constantly teasing him for kisses.

To wipe all tears from all faces is a task too hard for mortals; but to alleviate misfortune is within the most limited power.

Piety Among Congressmen.

One meets many skeptical men in high places here. Even in Congress, whose component elements are fresh from the bosom of the people, there is work for an able-bodied missionary; and as to church-going—dont you ever ask me what proportion of them are seen in our Washington churches enjoying the means of grace on a Sabbath day. But here and there one meets a devout one; not necessarily a strong man in legislation, but a man embellished with goodly attributes, and who eschews letter writing to his constituents on the Lord's day, or preparing briefs for cases of pressing interest at home even if he is a lawyer, and has left an urgent practice.

Occasionally, also you meet gray mannered and rather dashing one who will astonish you with the pride he feels in theoretical at least. Such a one is the Hon. Ben. Butterworth of the First Ohio District, a strikingly handsome man and good legislator, who is the son of Quaker parentage and proud of sharing their unworldly beliefs—in a amateur sort of a way. He has a law partner in Cincinnati, a staunch Republican, but a rationalist. When the municipal election in that city resulted favorably for the Republicans to their own great surprise, Mr. Volger was asked what he thought of the result. "Really, it looks as if Ben's God had something to do with it!" he said with sudden earnestness. I told this to a Congressman from one of the Mississippi States. "Has Ben got a God?" he replied almost enviously, "Well, it would be a good thing if more of us fellows had one, too."

GOLDEN RULES OF LIFE.—All the air and the exercise in the exercise in the universe, and the most generous and liberal table, but poorly suffice to maintain human stamina, if we neglect their co-operatives—namely, the obedience to the laws of abstinence, and those ordinary gratification. We rise with the headache, and set about puzzling ourselves to find out the cause. We then recollect that we had a hard day's fag, or that we feasted over bounteously, or that we stayed up very late; at all events we are inclined to find out the fault, and then we accuse ourselves of folly for falling into it. Let any one individual review his past life, how instantaneously the blush will cover his cheek when he thinks of the errors he has unknowingly committed—say unknowingly, because it never occurred to him that they were errors until the effects followed that betrayed the cause. All our sickness and ailments depend upon ourselves. There are thousands who practice errors day after day, and whose pervading thought is, that everything which is agreeable and pleasant cannot be hurtful. The slothful man loves his bed; the toper his drink; because it throws him into an exhilarative and exquisite mood: the gourmand makes his stomach his god; and the sensualist thinks his delights imperishable. So we go on, and at last we stumble and break down. We then begin to reflect, and the truth stares us in the face how much we are to blame.

CAUSE OF SUDDEN DEATH.—Very few of the sudden deaths which are said to arise from disease of the heart do really arise from that cause. To ascertain the real origin of the sudden deaths an experiment was tried and reported to a scientific congress at Strasburg. Sixty-six corpses of sudden death were made a subject of thorough post mortem examination; in these cases only two were found who had died from disease of the heart. Nine out of the sixty-six had died of apoplexy while there were forty-six cases of congestion of the lungs; that is, where the lungs are so full of blood that they could not work, not being room for a sufficient amount of air to support life. The causes that produce congestion of the lungs are cold feet, tight clothing, costive bowels, sitting still until chilled after being warmed with labor or a rapid walk, going too suddenly from a close room into the air, especially after speaking, to hasto walking or running to catch a train, etc. No person of fifty years should run, except in a desperate emergency. These causes of sudden death being known, as an avoidance of them may serve to lengthen valuable lives, which would otherwise be lost under the verdict of heart complaint. That disease is supposed to be inevitable and incurable; hence many may not take the pains they would to avoid a sudden death, if they knew it lay in their power.

BROUGHAM'S FINE POINT.—One of Brougham's earliest appearances as an advocate was in behalf of a man accused of stealing a pair of boots. The evidence as to the theft was conclusive; and Brougham contended that his client must be acquitted, the articles stolen being half-boots, which he argued were not boots any more than a half guinea was a guinea, or half a loaf a whole one. Lord Eskgrove, knowing this man, guessed that he was being played upon, so, without asking the prosecuting counsel to reply, he at once overruled the objection, saying: "I am of the opinion that 'boot' is a nomen generale, comprehending a half-boot. The distinction is between a half-boot and half a boot. The moon is always the moon, although sometimes she is a half-moon."

When you say that a girl's hair is like a coal, it is just as well to specify that you do not mean a red-hot coal.

SATURDAY NIGHT'S DISPATCHES TO THE DAILY BODIE CHRONICLE.

PACIFIC COAST.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 6.—Judges Sawyer and Hoffman of the United States Circuit and District Court to-day sat in bank to consider the habeas corpus case of Teburcio Parrot, arrested for violating the law recently enacted forbidding corporations to employ Chinese. McAllister and Bergin appeared for Parrott, Delos Lake for the Chinese Legation, and Attorney General Hart, District Attorney Smoot, Davis Louderback and Robert Ash for the people. Hall McAllister opened the case for the petitioner, arguing that the right of immigration includes the right of residence and all the privileges incident thereto. He was followed by Judge Lake, counsel for the Chinese Legation, in a lengthy argument. The case will be continued until Monday. The accommodations of the Court-house were fully taken up by a crowd of attorneys and a few representatives of the sand lot.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 6.—E. G. Colton, the well known theatrical manager, suicided at Alameda on Friday night, in a vacant lot, with a revolver. He shot himself in the brains. The body was not discovered until to-day. He left a letter to his wife, saying that money matters caused the act. Much money was due him which he could not collect and pay his debts, and rather than be a defaulter he killed himself. He lately organized a troupe that went through the interior, which was unsuccessful and depressed him. No money was found on his person.

VALLEJO, March 6.—One of the soldiers at the barracks at Benicia committed suicide last night by sitting up in bed and placing the butt of his musket against the foot board and pulling the trigger with his toe. The ball passed entirely through the man's body.

UKIAH, CAL., March 6.—The case of E. H. Brown was given to the jury at twenty minutes to 4 o'clock this afternoon. The arguments of the counsels for the defence occupied two hours and fifteen minutes in their delivery; the attorney for the people, one hour and forty minutes. The court-room was densely packed and partly filled with ladies. The jury returned after being out three and a half hours with a verdict of guilty of murder in the first degree. Brown appeared to have some hopes when the verdict was read by the clerk.

CALIFORNIA LEGISLATURE.

SACRAMENTO, March. 6.—Passed finally, the bill providing for the issuance temporary certificates to teachers in public schools, and it was ordered immediately transmitted to the Assembly.

Mr. Johnson moved to take up the House bill on revenues and taxation.

Mr. Wendell contended that it was necessary to have the amendments printed before the bill can be placed on its final passage. The Chair ruled in accordance with Mr. Wendell's statement.

The Judiciary Committee recommended the passage of the bill regulating charges by telegraph companies. The Judiciary Committee recommend the reduction in telegraph rates of fifteen per cent on those in operation January 1st 1880.

The Mayball bill establishing a legal rate of interest was considered. Merry's amendment establishing the rate at 7 per cent was adopted.

POLITICAL.

CHICAGO, March 6.—The Journal's New York special says the seeds of bitterness sown by the Utica Convention among Brooklyn Republicans are springing up. In the Fourth Ward Association last night a resolution opposing the nomination of Grant was carried by a considerable majority, and much bad feeling was shown.

In a convention of Bergen county, N. J., Republicans, on motion of Wm. M. Lynn, one of the editors of the Evening Post, the following resolution was adopted unanimously:

Resolved, That inasmuch as the united vote of the party is necessary to its success in November, we deem it inadvisable that General Grant should receive the nomination for President from the hands of the Republican National Convention at Chicago and it is the wish of this convention that delegates selected here shall oppose at Trenton the choice of any delegates to Chicago who favors Grant's nomination.

NEW YORK, March 6.—The Times' Washington special says there are many and growing indications that the controversy in regard to the Presidential candidate will among the Southern delegates to the National Democratic Convention, be one of most stormy and bitter ever known. There seems no doubt that Tilden's candidacy That he has any idea of withdrawing no well informed politician from the Southern State for a moment believes.

NEW YORK, March 6.—The Tribune says George William Curtis in a controversy with a Tribune representative yesterday, expressed in a forcible way his views of the movement to nominate Grant. He declared that this movement to nominate Grant is due to a clique of self-seeking politicians. If Grant is nominated, he believes he will be defeated and the Republican party disorganized.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Senator Butler yesterday reported a bill from the Committee on Territories for the organization of the Territory of Alaska, and the establishment of a civil government therefor. The bill provides for the appointment of a Government of a Governor, Chief Justice, Surveyor General and Secretary by the President. These officers, together with a collector of customs for the District of Alaska, are to constitute for the first year's operations of the government a legislative council, and are empowered to provide the legislation required to put the government into operation, and to perfect the necessary details for the warning of a Teritorrial government. Their authority as a legislative council under the bill is to continue till otherwise provided for by Congress. The bill authorizes the executive council to divide the Territory into counties and provide for the registration of voters. All male residents over 21 years of age, including Indians who speak the English language intelligently and adopt civilized habits, and all who are citizens of the United States by nativity or by terms of treaty with Russia, and who have resided in the Territory six months prior to any election shall be qualified to vote. The bill also provides for the election of delegates to Congress on such day as the Governor may appoint, The judicial powers of the Territory under the bill are to be vested in a Supreme Court and five inferior courts. The Justice of the inferior courts are to be appointed by the legislatve council.

CASUALTY AND CRIME.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—As foreshadowed in yesterday's dispatches, the publication of a statement from plaintiff in the seduction suit against Senator Hill of Georgia, repudiating her affidavit and exculpating the Senator, has brought the well-known lady lawyer, Mrs. Belva Lockwood, to the front, and her counter statement is a racy topic in gossiping circles. She shows by the affidavits of responsible parties that the plaintiff did make oath to the charges and sign the papers in the case with a free knowledge of their contents; and Mrs. Lockwood further declares that she is prepared to prove that her client was subsequently bought off by Hill's son and a friend of Hill, who visited her for that purpose after the suit was brought.

SCRANTON, Pa., March 6.—An explosion of fire damp took place at shaft No. 2 at East Manticoke yesterday afternoon. One man killed and eight still in the mine. They are supposed to have been killed by foul air.

MISCELLANEOUS NEWS.

NEW YORK, March 6.—The Herald's Hong Kong special says China is making heavy preparations for war. She i purchasing arms extensively. The Kuldja Abroglio has developed new and unexpected complications. The Russian settlements in Eastern Siberia have come to be regarded as absolutely dangerous to the peace of the Empire. The Kuldja which has been restored is not the Kuldja with which the Pekin Government parted. Russia has retained strategical positions. China has therefore, begun to adopt a more or less defiant attitude toward all foreign powers. England and Russia both hope to make use of her. England will probably succeed, and the Czar will have one more to encounter in Asia. His Government is already inciting Japan to take up arms against China. The question of the sovereignty of the Loo Choo islands is being again pushed to the front. There are men in China who are awaiting anxiously for embarrassments at home and abroad, and who saw in the Government's old torpid policy their chances of overthrowing it, and whose agitations are driving China into a warlike activity that at no very distant date may prove a source of anxiety to the world.

CHICAGO, March 6.—The coming walking match between O'Leary and Weston at San Francisco is looked forward to with great interests by pedestrians and sporting men. The feeling is that O'Leary will make the best effort of his life before his final retirement from the walking arena. They say both men will do their best to win, though in a go-as-you-please contest Weston has probably the advantage. but it is admitted to be hardly possible to place the victor.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Hayes interoceanic canal message has been awaiting Evarts. It is reported that Hayes will take ground greatly in advance of that taken by President Monroe. Evarts is opposed to any canal on the Isthmus beleiving the Panama and overland routes sufficient.

COLUMBUS, March 6.—The State Prohibition Convention, yesterday nominated Wm. Headon for Secretary of State and a full list of minor officers and Presidential electors. The resolutions approved the conduct of Mrs. Hayes and condemn Ex-President Grant, for fostering, the liquor traffic.

The Bodie CHRONICLE, lately published as a weekly by the Folger brothers, is now a daily; and though the fourth daily in that town, it looks as though it had a solid foundation to rest upon. The CHRONICLE is well printed, and is a good local paper. —S. F. Call.

ORDERED TO LEAVE.—About 8 o'clock last evening a crowd of men visited Mrs. Midgely's boarding house on Wood street, and forcing an entrance, demanded to see McDonald, one of the men implicated in the Jupiter-Gwyhee trouble last Summer and ordered to leave the town by resolution of the Miners Union. They were informed that he was not there, but was lodging in the house next door below, but they were not disposed to believe it, and pushed Mrs. Midgely aside and were making their way in, when they were stopped. They ultimately found McDonald and ordered him to leave town within an hour. At 9:30 he was arranging his business under the protection of Constable Herrington and Deputy Constable Whittaker, preparatory to leaving. We are informed that the men engaged in this high-handed work were not Miners Union men, and that most of them, if not all, were intoxicated. What next?

SATURDAY, a warrant was sworn out for the arrest of Henry Olds, who assaulted a woman named Millie Monroe. He beat the poor woman, with a cedar stick over two feet long and about four inches in diameter. She was so badly injured, it was found necessary to convey her to the hospital. The utmost sentence of the law should be enforced in such cases, especially so, since attacks upon the weaker sex have been of such frequent occurence in Bodie.

"REMINISCENCES."—Our cotemporaries seem to be a good deal exercised over "our Reminiscences," and cackle for the second installment. We confess the joke and enjoy it. But there is a serious side to such a subject, and it is this, some people have no "Reminiscences;" and if they have they are of such a character that they dare not disclose them, "Ta Ta!"

ASSAULT.—On Friday night Edward Joyce, while under the influence of Bodie whisky, choked and otherwise maltreated Nellie Booth. On Saturday the latter swore out a warrant for his arrest before Justice Newman. The Judge thought the frolic worth "$30, or 30 days." Joyce plead guilty and rustled to pay the coin;

THE Robinson Benefit.—The Concert on Saturday evening last was both a financial and artistic success, and as an evidence of the generosity of the people of Bodie. The net proceeds will probably amount to $300. Thanks are due W. A. Searles and his assistants for this happy result.

MILL LEASED.—The Spaulding Mill, having been leased by the Noonday Company, will commence crushing ore from that mine within a few days. It will be under the management of Col. S. B. Ferguson.

PERSONAL.—Col. A. C. Dunn, President of the Maryland Con., departed yesterday afternoon for San Francisco, to remain for a month. L. A. Scowden returned from San Francisco yesterday morning. Senator Stewart is expected here in a day or two.

FINE CONFECTIONARY.—Mrs Swan has opened a confectionary store in Abbot's building, on Main street, between Standard Avenue and Main street. She intends to keep a fresh supply at all times and at reasonable prices.

ANNIVERSARY.—Next Sunday will be the anniversary of the Bodie M. E. Sunday School. Yesterday there were 114 scholars present, and we are glad to learn that the school is in a prosperous condition.

PACIFIC COAST PIONEERS.—A meeting of the members will be held at the Hall on to-morrow evening at 7½ o'clock on important business.

PLEASANT.—Yesterday was one of the pleasantest days of the season, and everybody and his wife were out of doors enjoying the delightful weather.

NEW GOODS.—Fresh imported and Domestic Cigars; a full line of Stationary and Notions; Fresh Candies and latest Periodicals just received at Caldwell & Falkinhams.

The making of car springs has commenced at the Central Pacific Railroad works in Sacramento. Originally all the car and engine springs in use on the road were of the French make, manufactured at Pittsburg. The sleeping-cars fitted up in the East have 16 springs, each weighing 125 pounds, and having 7 leaves. The engine springs are even more ponderous. The spring now made at the shops for the same purpose weighs but 80 pounds, has only 5 leaves, and yields to pressure even more readily than the others, thereby preventing much wear and tear of the property.

"THE SPRING BOOM"

Manifestly the coming Spring promises to do great things for Bodie. The mining outlook is as cheerful as the most enthusiastic stock sharp could desire, each day adds some new and valuable contribution to the future of the camp in the way of new discoveries of large and valuable paying bodies of ore. The prominence of the camp, already conceded, is placed beyond controversy by the late rich and extensive finds in Belvidere, Oro, Addenda, Jupiter and Boston Con., with a rumored strike in the Maryland, to say nothing of many rich prospects only awaiting the deft hand of capital to lift them into prominence and prosperity. The Standard Con. and Bodie, confessedly two of the richest and best managed mines in the world, give each day renewed evidences of a lasting and abundant future. Verily Bodie is in its infancy, and gives promise, as we indicate above, of a manhood as strong and enduring as its mineral wealth is extensive and fruitful.

THE RUMMY OF ALL RUMMYNISCENCES. NO. 2

Fred Pillacoddy.

It is now one year since we joined fortunes with Mr. Pillacoddy in the BODIE MORNING WHANGADOODLE. It is unnecessary to say we have been successful; the Sheriff and a discriminating public have been, and are, tearful witnesses of the fact. In all this Fred Pillacoddy's pre-eminently searching intellect, profound and analytical ability, deep SEATED erudition and brilliant genius, the coruscations of which send like unto a dark lantern to the times in which we live, a light only equalled by the bright flashes of "THE WASTE DUMP." The effects of Pillacoddy's connection with our paper are visible in the amount of "dead matter" that fills our columns, a daily decreasing subscription list, and the entire absence of new advertisements—better and more convincing proof of his efficency than any faint praise from our lips with which we hope he may be DAMMED, is to be found in these, the fruits of our joint labor. In parting with Fred Pillacoddy justice compels us to say that in all our varied business experience extending over a period of over one hundred and fifty years, more or less, we have never (what! never?) met a more thoroughly irascible unenergetic business man; and while our relation from the time of our first happy acquaintance up to, and including the penning of this sad farewell, have been of the most hostile character, yet in the fullness of a sympathetic nature, we take Pillacoddy to our editoral embrace and say (in a Pickwickian sense) god bless you my boy! God bless you!. S. F. O. TOOL.

A Few Words.

The undersigned has been associated with the newspaper business since its advent—that is to say, since 1492, a period cotemporaneous with the discovery of America, by a party by the name of Christopher Columbus. During the small space intervening between these two unimportant events and the date of his PAPER many unpleasant associations have been formed and enmities cemented. Among all of these, however, there are none of a more unpleasant nature than the one now to be raptured between Mr. O. Tool and the undersigned. In retiring from the BODIE MORNING WHANGADOODLE I can, with honesty say, that the feeling I entertain toward Mr. Tool is of the bitterest and most lasting kind.

FRED PILLACODDY.

NORTH NOONDAY SUIT.—The trial of the case of the North Noonday Mining Company vs. the Orient Mining Company, which has occupied the United States Circuit Court since the 10th instant, has been concluded. The case was given to the jury yesterday afternoon. They came into Court this morning with the following verdict: "We, the jury, find in favor of plaintiff and assess the damages at $1." The action was brought to recover $5,000 damages for ore removed from plaintiff's ground in Bodie District, Mono county.

An equity suit brought by the Noonday Company against the Orient Company is pending in the same Court, which will be pushed to a speedy trial. The prayer of the complaint in this suit is for a perpetual injunction, restraining the defendant from abstracting any ore from the disputed ground and for such further relief in the premises as the nature and circumstances of the case may require.—San Francisco Bulletin.

BODIE CHRONICLE.—This paper, published by the Folger brothers, for a number of years residents of this city, on the 1st instant turned their weekly into the DAILY BODIE CHRONICLE. We are pleased to see this evident sign of prosperity, and heartily wish them a continuance of the same. The CHRONICLE is well filled with local and mining information, just the items for which the STATE DEMOCRAT is eager. The BODIE CHRONICLE is on our exchange list, and will continue to remain there if Robert will only publish a categorical answer to Seth's expressive question—"Must the boy perish?"—Sacramento State Democrat.

We will leave the Democrat on our list, provided the Bodie papers do not get hold of "that" boy. It will be "too good for anything."

Christ Church, Boston is over 150 years old. Erectede in 1723, it can claim a greater age than any other church in that city. From its belfry were swung the lanterns that flashed their signal to Paul Revere, on the night of his famous ride to Lexington, warning of the anticipated English raid. The furniture of the chancel is plain and antique, while the prayer books and Bibles are honorable with age, and were bestowed in 1733 by King George II.

Satin is said to owe its origin to Octavo Mai, who, having listlessly chewed scraps of silk, was struck with their glistening appearance when he ejected them from his mouth. By applying heat and certain mucillagenous matter to the silk he arrived at satin.

"kind words can never die." How bitterly does a man realize that terrible truth when he sees all the kindest words he ever saw in his life, glaring at him from his published letters, in a breach of promise suit.

BODIE MINES.

NOONDAY.

John Parham, Sup't.

The east crosscut, 500 level, is in 240 feet. The crosscut from the 400, is in 242 feet; at which point a nice ledge was cut, and are now running on it, north and south. On the west ledge 400 feet level, have run north 64 feet and south 71 feet. There is about 20 inches of good ore in each of these drifts. The winze to connect the 300 level with the 400, is down 103 feet, showing a fine, strong vein all the way down. Driving north on No. 1 vein, on 300 level, and now in 480 feet. The quartz is mixed with vein phosphiry, and the fissure large. The stops throughout the mine are looking well and the usual quality of ore is being taken out. The mill is running to its fullest capacity, and every thing about the mine and the mill is running smoothly. Heavy timbers are being prepared for the new rock breakers, which will be put in a few days.

BOOKER.

A. M. Ellsworth, Sup't.

Driving the crosscut on the 400 level, north and south, and in about 46 feet each way. The vein is looking pretty well, and is from 2 to 4 feet thick. Yesterday the engine was being leveled, etc. it having settled some. It will again be in running order today, when pumping will be resumed, and as soon as the volume of water in the shaft is reduced, the 10 inch plunger will be put in, and sinking resumed. Col. Ellsworth has had put in the works a convenient little machine shop, consisting of a lathe, drill press, and also blacksmith bellows, and all being driven by a Park & Lacey pump, which is used as an engine when the pump is not required.

BOSTON CON.

Martin Jones, Supt.

The north drift on the 200 level of this mine has been driven 61 feet, still carrying a vein of three feet in thickness, the ore being of good milling quality. The south drift is in 53 feet. The body of ore has now been proven for a distance of 110 feet, and the vein is regular throughout, and of average size of about 3 feet. The incline shaft is now thirty-four feet below the 200 foot level, and is being sent down with three shifts of men, and securely timbered—double compartment—for a working shaft.

CHAMPION.

L. J. Hanchet, Supt.

The new pumping machinery is completed, and connection is made down to the 400 level. In about 6 days the new works will be started up. Sinking has been discontinued until the pump is put down, as a body of water was struck on Saturday night.

GOODSHAW.

Thos. Buckley, Supt.

On account of a low state of the wood pile at the mine, no work has been done for the past three days, but several companies are going to club to-night, and break a road to a wood camp, where they have some 800 cords of wood.

GIPSY QUEEN,

A. M. Ellsworth, Supt.

The machinery is all on the ground, and will be put in position as speedily as possible. The boiler is set, and it is thought the works will be in full operation by the 20th instant.

ORIGINAL SUMMIT.

A. M. Ellsworth, Supt.

Sinking shaft; which is now down 112 feet. When 200 feet is reached crosscutting will be resumed again. In the crosscut on the 100 level the vein is some 12 or 16 inches wide, and looks very flattering.

Language interspersed with foreign words and high-sounding terms shows affectation and draws ridicule upon the speaker.

"Put no fulsome compliments on my tombstone," said a wag. Don't give me any epitaffy."
